Specialized labels for your environment

The right printing and labeling operations can set up your operations to move full speed ahead without unplanned disruptions. When it comes to printing labels, Zebra understands that freezers, humid warehouses, and dry storage conditions can be your toughest challenges. We offer labeling solutions that give your scannability a performance edge, while ensuring labels stay in place, minimizing reprinting and maximizing printer uptime.

Reliable Scannability: Our labels feature a varnish which ensures excellent print quality and durability, resulting in increased scan rates and scan accuracy.

Durable Adhesive: It is optimized for use in cold environments to ensure our labels bond to cold items and remain adhered.

Maximum Printer Uptime: Zebra uses inks compatible with thermal printers that don't transfer to the printhead, one of the main causes of premature printhead failure. In addition, our adhesive won't ooze into the printer and onto the printhead, reducing jams and the need for printer service.

Zebra Printers + Zebra Certified Supplies: Our supplies go through a 23-point test process. When you use printers and media designed together to work together, despite tough conditions, productivity soars.

Multiple Material and Adhesive Options to Perform in Your Environment

Zebra offers several direct thermal material and adhesive combinations to meet the demands of your environment—from paper to water-resistant polypropylene; standard to freezer grade adhesives.

Temporary Identification Made Simple with Magnetic Tags

Zebra's thermal transfer 8000T Magnetic Tag material is reusable and a great option for temporary identification of magnetic surfaces, such as reusable totes and steel racking.
